Identify one specific program, approach, or process in your work you should revise to become more student-centered.
Consider...

• Why is this piece critical to fostering student success?
• What components of this piece are already aligned with the principles of student-centeredness?
• What components are missing or could be strengthened to better align with principles of student-centeredness?
• What action steps or guidance would you need to design and implement this change?
• What barriers might you face and how will you overcome them?
• How will you assess whether the changes you are making are moving you close to a student-centered approach, including student feedback?
• How will you assess measurable impact of the changes you are proposing?
